Courses indicated as being within the 4-year sequence are those that the summer school office has agreed to support if they fall below the enrollment limit. Those not so indicated will not be supported by the summer school office if the enrollment falls below the limit.

Students may need to take additional music theory and/or music history courses as determined by the diagnostic exams.

Students should plan to take courses during the second summer session in order complete the requirements for the degree. In a four year period twenty-seven hours are available during the first summer session only, should all classes make.
