The Senate of the Faculty of the University of Mississippi is shocked and extremely disappointed to learn that the Mississippi Board of Trustees of the State Institutions of Higher Learning decided not to renew the contract of our exceptional leader, Chancellor Dan Jones.

The Senate expresses its utmost confidence in Chancellor Jones and calls upon the Board to immediately reverse its decision and renew his contract.

Since 2009, under the leadership of Dan Jones as the 16th Chancellor of the University of Mississippi, the state’s flagship university has experienced extraordinary success that greatly enhances its national reputation:

- The enrollment at the University of Mississippi has increased by 26% to more than 23,000 students.
- The freshman class in 2014 is 48% larger than in 2010, and entering students are academically stronger.
- Student athletes at the University of Mississippi have seen unprecedented success in the classroom and in intercollegiate competition.
- Fundraising for the academic and athletic programs at the University of Mississippi has increased by over 70% since 2010, totaling $381 million in gifts.
- Initiatives to strengthen diversity on campus have made the University of Mississippi a more inclusive place. Among universities in the SEC, we are a leader in African-American enrollment, and graduation rates of African-American students have improved by 21% since 2010.
- The university’s strongest programs have thrived. The Sally McDonnell Barksdale Honors College has grown by 42% since Fall 2009 and the average ACT of the honors freshmen continues to rise.

Remarkably, the University of Mississippi under Chancellor Jones’ leadership has realized this success during economically challenging times that have forced many universities around the country to cut back rather than grow. Chancellor Jones has positioned the University of Mississippi for sustained success at the national and global level.

Chancellor Jones maintains an ongoing dialogue with the Faculty Senate and is committed to shared governance, openness, and transparency. The result is a campus community characterized by academic freedom and a deep dedication to learning.

Chancellor Jones is an exceptional leader for this university and deserves to continue his truly outstanding work for the University of Mississippi beyond the end of his current contract on September 14, 2015.
We teach our students that hard work and demonstrable success will be rewarded. The Faculty Senate of the University of Mississippi calls on the Board of Trustees of the State Institutions of Higher Learning to act by those values and affirm its commitment to the future of our students, institution, and state by renewing the contract of Chancellor Dan Jones.

THE SENATE OF THE FACULTY

Michael Barnett
Chair of the Faculty Senate

Faculty Senators

Rachna Prakash, Accountancy
Patrick Curtis, Biology
Randy Wadkins, Chemistry
Feng Wang, Computer Science
Adetayo Alabi, English
Robert Van Ness, Finance
Oliver Dinius, History
Vanessa Gregory, Journalism
Lorri Williamson, Legal Studies
Jing Jing Wu, Library
Christopher Newman, Marketing
Heather Allen, Modern Languages
Michael Gardiner, Music
Erin Holmes, Pharmacy Administration
Breese Quinn, Physics & Astronomy
Marilyn Mendolia, Psychology
Marcos Mendoza, Sociology & Anthropology
Mark Ortwein, Teacher Education
Charles Ross, African American Studies
Brice Noonan, Biology
Brad Cook, Classics
Tom Garrett, Economics
Ben McClelland, English
Robert Holt, Geology
Darren Grem, History
Antonia Eliason, Law
Susan Ivey, Library
Dwight Frink, Management
Sasha Kocic, Mathematics
Valentina Iepuri, Modern Languages
Jos Milton, Music
Allison Bell, Pharmacy Practice
Ben Jones, Political Science
David Rutherford, Public Policy Leadership
Minjoo Oh, Sociology & Anthropology
Joe Sumrall, Teacher Education
Philip Jackson, Art & Art History
Brice Noonan, Biology
Robert Doerksen, BioMolecular Sciences
Tossi Ikuta, Communication Sciences & Disorders
Elliott Hutchcraft, Electrical Engineering
Annette Trefzer, English
Yang-Chieh Fu, Health & Exercise Science
Joshua Howard, History
Dennis Bunch, Leadership & Counselor Education
Jessica Leming, Library
Milam Aiken, Management Information Systems
Tejas Pandya, Mechanical Engineering
Adam Estes, Music
Laurel Lambert, Nutrition & Hospitality Management
Mary Thurlkill, Philosophy & Religion
Greg Love, Political Science
Desiree Stepteau-Watson, Social Work
Allan Bellman, Teacher Education
Rory Ledbetter, Theatre Arts